GENERAL POLICIES

The following guidance is intended to assist in the understanding and practical application of the 13th edition of the Standards for Immunohematology Reference Laboratories (IRL Standards). The document contains guidance on both the quality concepts that provide the framework for the IRL Standards and many of the technical elements contained therein.

This document includes verbatim requirements from the IRL Standards interspersed with guidance. Language from the IRL Standards is presented; when there is appropriate guidance for that standard, the guidance language follows the standard with the heading “Guidance.” This format allows the reader to see both the requirement and the associated guidance side by side. Due to the interrelated nature of this guidance document and the IRL Standards, readers are encouraged to become familiar with the IRL Standards and its format. The Introduction and Preface to the IRL Standards contain information that is applicable to this document as well.

Please note that there is no guidance for some standards. The Immunohematology Reference Laboratories Standards Committee has chosen to focus this guidance document on those issues that may require additional context and/or examples to assist in attaining compliance with the IRL Standards. It is important to note that the standards in the IRL Standards contain the imperative “shall.” Additional information in this document is termed “guidance,” which is intended to serve as helpful advice or to provide examples of how to implement a specific standard; guidance is often characterized by use of the word “should.”
